Inspiring. Insightful. Impactful.

Su-Yen Wong, CSP, inspires leaders to drive transformation, motivate teams, and enhance performance in an ever-changing business landscape. As Adjunct Professor at a top 10 world-ranked university and the first female Chairperson of the Singapore Institute of Directors, she brings firsthand experience from Academia, Boardroom, and C-Suite to conferences, corporate events, and leadership retreats.

Her keynote speeches and masterclasses resonate deeply as she draws on over three decades of experience working with many of the world's largest, most innovative, and complex organisations. She explores the intersectionality of technology, strategy, and leadership. She brings concepts to life by integrating future-forward strategies with actionable solutions and compelling storytelling.

Equally impactful with intimate audiences and mega stages alike, she offers each audience a tailored experience designed to align with the desired outcomes. She is especially adept in multicultural settings and her engaging style enables her to connect with audiences worldwide.

Su-Yen's thought leadership is regularly featured in print, broadcast, and online media. She is an award-winning photographer and earlier in life, a musician. She is an avid adventure traveller and she summited Mount Kilimanjaro, the world's tallest freestanding mountain, in 2022.
